Description

This is the sound of opportunity knocking! The option to buy a unit in this highly sought after neighborhood within Wagener Terrace does not happen very often. Welcome to the Gedding's Farm community! Located directly across the street from the Corrine Jones Community Park, you will have access to tennis & basketball courts, a playground, extensive green space and a thriving community garden right at your fingertips. Ideally positioned in the center of everything, you will be close to restaurants, coffee shops, easy access to the highway and easily accessible to the new "Lowcountry Lowline," which will be a master planned network of parks and recreational space intended for various uses. This charming townhome style condo offers an open layout that flows wonderfully. Whether you are entertaining, or working from home, you will appreciate the layout of this floorplan. On the main level, there is a spacious family room which flows directly into the open dining room/workspace area and then into the kitchen. The Spanish-style tiles add to the character of the home and give it a unique charm. Just off of the family room there is conveniently located half bathroom. At the back of the property, there is an attached storage closet which is ideal for overflow items. Upstairs there are two comfortably sized bedrooms, a full bathroom with a shower/tub combination and a conveniently located laundry closet. The units overlook a welcoming greenspace that is the center of the neighborhood. Whether you are gathering with neighbors on a bench or taking a stroll over to the park to play catch, you will enjoy the inviting spaces that surround this home. One dedicated off-street parking space is included. Parking on the street is always readily available. Do not miss your opportunity to become a part of this vibrant community. This one will not last long. Schedule your showing today!
