Description

For turnkey elegance and low-maintenance living in the heart of south Mount Pleasant, look no further than 784 Natchez Circle. This bright and well-appointed townhome is updated and beautifully maintained with gleaming quartz kitchen countertops, recently painted interiors, and an updated powder bathroom. Upstairs, you'll find three bedrooms - one with an en-suite bathroom with dual sinks - plus a hall bathroom. Upstairs also features a spacious finished room over the garage, which works as a fourth bedroom, den, office or other flex space. In addition to the generous interior space, the unit features an attached one-car garage which houses the washer/dryer, water heater, and additional storage space. To the rear of the unit is a private, beautifully landscaped Charleston-style courtyard which is fully enclosed and well-shaded, backing up to trees and other residential units. While rear yard maintenance is responsibility of the unit owner, front landscaping/yard is included in the low monthly HOA fee, which also includes access to a seasonal outdoor pool and maintenance of common areas. Lake Hunter Commons is a small, tidily maintained community of townhomes. Centrally located in south Mount Pleasant off Anna Knapp Boulevard, this location is walkable to the Mount Pleasant branch of the Charleston County Library and the Publix/ Queensborough shopping center. From here, it is less than 3 miles to the base of the Ravenel Bridge headed downtown, just over 5 miles to the beach at Sullivan's Island, and the airport is an easy 25-minute trip via I-526. For easy elegance, convenient location, and low-maintenance living, 784 Natchez Circle is sure to impress.
